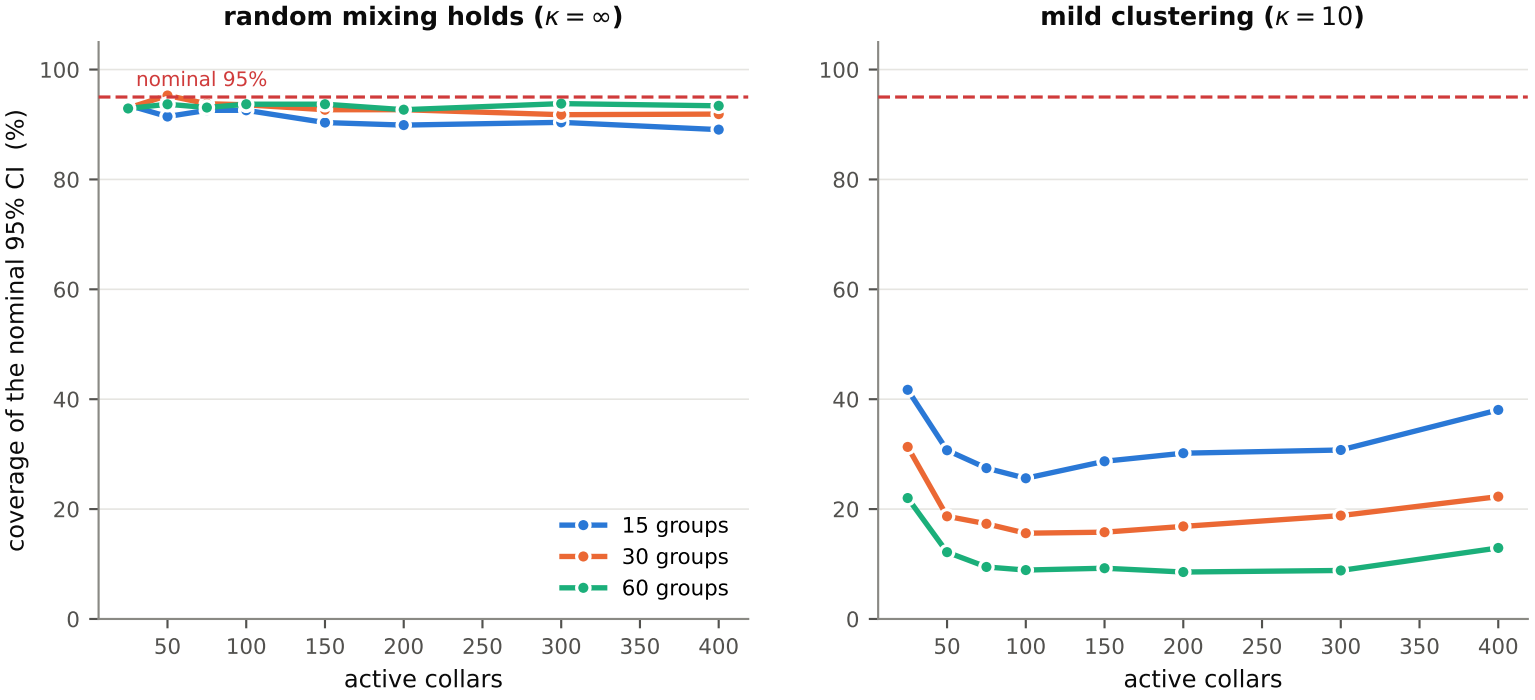
Adding collars buys precision only while the mixing assumption holds



1,000 replicates per cell; true herd size 100,000.